DEATH

Angel Calls for Miss Ida Ingman at Her Home at Fairmont.

Miss Ida Ingman, well known here, is dead at Fairmont. The following account of her life and death appeared in the Fairmont Times Friday morning:

Miss Ida Letitia Ingman, one of the best known ladies of Fairmont and a life long resident of this place, died Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. Oliver J. Fleming, of Jackson street.

About five weeks ago Miss Ingman contracted typhoid fever. She had a serious attack of the disease, but was recovering in an encouraging manner until a few days ago. Then complications set in which were the immediate cause of her death. Being of a frail constitution she was very much weakened by her siege of fever, and other maladies, which had troubled her for the last eighteen months, set in in their worst form, which resulted in her death. Miss Ingman had never been strong and had visited various specialists and medical institutions in the hope of benefiting her condition. She possessed an ambitious nature and this alone maintained her during her years of declining health.

Miss Ingman was 55 years of age on April 14, 1912. She was born in Fairmont and was a daughter of the late William and Letitia Ingman. Her family was one of the oldest in Fairmont and she had a wide number of relatives. Miss Ingman leaves one sister, Mrs. O. J. Fleming, with whom she made her home for a number of years. One brother, Reeves Ingman, is dead. She was a step-daughter of Mrs. James Ingman, of this city, and has one half-sister, Mrs. Fred Fleming, also of Fairmont. A half-brother, Harry Ingman, died several years ago. Miss Ingman was an aunt of Mrs. Ethel Fleming Harr, wife of Levi B. Harr, of Fairmont.

For a number of years Miss Ingman conducted a notion and millinery store in Fairmont. Her latest place of business was the Bon Ton store, which she disposed of to J. E. Anderson, the present proprietor. She was a woman of many splendid qualities, and a refined, gentle manner and she had numerous friends in the city who will learn of her death with deep regret. She was very successful in her business undertakings. On account of her frail health she retired from business several years ago. Miss Ingman belonged to the Methodist Episcopal church. The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, from the Fleming residence. The Rev. H. C. Howard, of the First Methodist Episcopal church, will conduct the services, assisted by the Rev. L. E. Peter, of Clarksburg. Interment will be made in the Woodlawn cemetery.

MRS. DAVISSON

Dies at Her Home at Jacksonville, Lewis County, This State.

Mrs. E. L. Davison, wife of the late Captain George I. Davison, died at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at her home at Jacksonville, Lewis county, aged about 65 years. Her husband was a successful merchant and farmer and widely known in this section of the state. He served in the Confederate army.

Mrs. Davison was the mother of E. G. Davison, of Weston, successful banker and live stock raiser. He is the Democratic nominee in the Twelfth district for the state senate, in which his father served a term or two.

Three daughters also survive Mrs. Davison. They are Mrs. B. A. Koblegard, of Weston; Mrs. R. B. Phillips, of this city; and Mrs. Mary Clayton, of Jacksonville.

Mrs. Davison was a highly esteemed woman and had a large circle of friends who are pained to hear of her death.

DEAD IN WEST

Is a Native of Mt. Clare, This County, at An Advanced Age.

Rezin R. Robinson, a native of Mt. Clare, is dead at Merna, Neb., where he lived the last thirty years. He was 73 years of age and the second wife and several sons and daughters survive. The last several months he suffered from heart trouble, the cause of his death.

Mr. Robinson was a brother of Mrs. Lydia S. Hoff of this city and a brother of Edward Robinson, of Burnsville. In his early life he was a merchant at Mt. Clare.

J. O. McNeely, of Fairmont, is her on a business visit.

You have waited for this Sale —It is a Sale worth waiting for.

Men patronize our sales at this time for varied reasons. One man waits for it to get the suit he wants at less prices; another to get a better Suit than he would care to afford at regular prices; and still another because he doesn't feel that he should miss the opportunity to complete his wardrobe with clothes of such high quality at such low prices.

And they all win. There are 500 Suits here; fine quality; correct style; perfect fitting; hand-tailored. The prices are greatly lessened. It is time you took the matter in hand.
